

Proclamation

By Andres Ramos, City of Alpine Mayor

WHEREAS, in Texas, public safety telecommunicators act as our “unseen first responders,” serving our communities and helping save lives every day; and

WHEREAS, these professionals, which include 9-1-1 operators, dispatchers, and other highly trained communications specialists, answer calls for help and address the emergent needs of callers according to the specific challenges raised by any given emergency; and

WHEREAS, they process the situation, responding rapidly and often creatively to reassure frightened, upset, and confused callers while at the same time maintaining the calm, professional, and disciplined demeanor that handling an emergency 9-1-1 call requires; and

WHEREAS, public safety telecommunicators have remained unwavering in their dedication to providing essential services to the City of Alpine residents in need, always adapting to an evolving emergency response field; and

WHEREAS, the City of Alpine is well-equipped with the best professionals who can provide critical assistance for residents in times of emergency; and

WHEREAS, the Rio Grande Council of Governments works with telecommunicators to ensure that the City of Alpine have reliable access to emergency telecommunications services; and

WHEREAS, every year, Texas dedicates a week in April for an awareness campaign which highlights the many contributions and achievement of public safety telecommunicators and their importance to the public safety framework of the Lone Star State.

NOW, THEREFORE I, Andres Ramos, Mayor of the City of Alpine Texas, on behalf of the community, do hereby recognize April 10-16, 2022 as

PUBLIC SAFETY TELECOMMUNICATORS WEEK

In Alpine, Texas urges the appropriate recognition whereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 5th day of April in the Year 2022.

Andres Ramos, Mayor
